

A Noble Profession, But---

The man who edits the average country newspaper cannot well avoid trading on somebody's toes editorially; must expect to be censured often for unintentional failures; must expect hard work and little thanks; must expect to be called a coward because he does not "pitch into" everything that somebody thinks is wrong; and a fool if he speaks out too plainly on public evils; he must expect to grind other people's axes and turn the grindstone himself. Still, we think it one of the noblest professions on earth; the one in which the earnest man can do the most good to his fellow man, and in which an honorable man can wield much power for good.—Arlington (Ky) Courier.

Sunnyside Camp No. 68, W. O. W. will meet next Thursday, Oct. 28. All members are urgently requested to attend.

S. Katz, Clerk.

Mrs. J. Whittig of Kansas City, Mo., is here looking for irrigated and dry farm lands for herself and about fifteen families.

J. B. Wilmet has contracted to paint and paper the Nels Curtis cottage.

Max Frost, the Nestor of New Mexico journalism, was laid to rest with the highest Masonic honors. Colonel Frost was a forceful writer and a staunch friend of New Mexico.

The New Paper NOTICE!

About the last of this month I shall begin here the publication of a weekly paper to be known as The Index and published at One Dollar per year.

I have asked Mr. Henry, at the Bank, and Mr. Katz, of Sunnyside, to accept subscriptions under the following agreement:

Five days after the installation of my plant and the mailing of my first issue, they are to pay me one-half the money so collected and to pay the other half into the fund for the New Church.

In La Lande, the Holiness Association has been asked to act as Banker and will receive fifty per cent of all money so collected.

Persons may pay as far in advance as they wish, and the offer is good until the day set above for the division of the money, but it applies only to cash in advance subscriptions handled by the parties named, though any may solicit subscriptions and turn them over to these.

Clock That Tells Much.

One of the most wonderful clocks in existence is now in the possession of Louis Desoutter, who has had the honor of taking it to Buckingham palace for inspection by the queen. Her majesty showed great interest in its beautiful mechanism.

The clock is fixed on a Louis Seize stand and has four faces. Besides marking the hours, it shows the tides at six different parts of the world, the mean time and the solar time, the age of the moon, the movements of the planets, all eclipses, and is a perpetual calendar. It was made by Janvier of Paris in 1789 for the French Academy and took 11 years to manufacture; the workmanship is magnificent.—London Evening Standard.

Tributes of Affection for Paris Dead.

Foreign visitors to the cemetery of Pere La Chaise in Paris often wonder at the tributes of affection deposited on the graves. Many French people refuse to believe that their dead cannot enjoy the good things they used to like when alive.

Mothers bring fruits and sweets and leave them on the tombstones of their children. The graves of older people are frequently spread with wine, beer and tobacco, and there is (or was last year) one affectionate father who leaves a potato salad on his son's tombstone every Sunday. Parisian street prowlers are of course well aware of this practice, and despite the vigilance of the cemetery guardians manage to pilfer many a meal from the graves.

Deception of the Circus.

A writer in Collier's who is as familiar with circus life as a press agent, but who doesn't respect trade secrets, says that the graceful young lady bareback rider, and the shapely creature who does thrillers on the flying trapeze, are frequently young men, made feminine in appearance by the addition of a blonde wig and excelsior where nature failed to qualify him for the role.

Spreading the Gospel.

A missionary deaconess in Liberia has edited in native dialect a book containing the Ten Commandments, the Apostles' Creed, the doxology and a number of the best known hymns. The book is not only the first book published in the dialect, but the first successful attempt to make it a written language.

The El Paso Fair.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 21.—Having brought the Taft-Diaz meeting and the International celebration to a successful termination, El Paso has taken a hitch in its belt and started in to put the finishing touches to the preparations for the El Paso Fair and Exposition which is to be held November first to seventh.

As important to the agricultural, mining and industrial resources of the Southwest as the Taft-Diaz meeting was to the diplomatic relations of the United States and Mexico, the El Paso Fair is to be an exposition of the natural and acquired resources of the section West of the Pecos known as the Great Southwest. Displays of every variety of products of that section will be on display at the Fair and several acres of ground will be covered by these exhibits.

In addition to the display of natural resources the El Paso Fair offers the rancher, mining man and cattle raiser an unexcelled opportunity to view and inspect the latest improvements in machinery and live stock breeding. The display of mining and agricultural machinery at the Fair will be from all parts of the country, while the live stock exhibit will include cattle, sheep, swine and horses of all breeds.

Special rates on all railroads have been secured by the Fair Association and a one-fare rate for the round trip is now being advertised by the roads running into El Paso.
